19th Annual EGSA Graduate Student Conference

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

UNC Charlotte’s English Graduate Student Association Presents

A World of Difference:
(Re)Imagining the Global in the 21st Century

February 1, 2019

Education is about exploration, and as we pursue our interests, we find ourselves interacting with multicultural literature, examining modernity in a global context, and defining our relationship to the world.

The English Graduate Student Association of UNC Charlotte is hosting a graduate conference exploring global contemporary literature. We welcome scholarly and creative original papers, readings, and presentations that examine global cultures in literature, creative writing, education, children's literature, linguistics, rhetoric, composition, and technical writing.

These topics might include, but are not limited to:

- Cultural Diversity
- Racial Diversity
- Sexuality
- Gender Studies
- Film Studies
- Ecocriticism
- Postcolonial Studies
- Feminism
- Queer Theory
- Science Studies
- New Media
- Visual Studies

Please send abstracts of 250 – 300 words along with your name, institutional affiliation, and field of study to egsa@uncc.edu by November 30, 2018. Please include the title of your abstract, your name, program, and affiliation in your submission.
